

Pillsy – Never Forget a Pill Again

Text on Screen: Hello there, I'm Pillsy! (callout text)

Narration:

Meet Pillsy, your new personal assistant for vitamins and medications.

Text on Screen: Pillsy: Hey Adam. Remember to take your vitamin this morning. (message notification)

Narration:

Pillsy is a smart pill bottle that syncs to an app, sends intelligent reminders, and automatically tracks when you take a pill.

Pillsy makes it easy to track and share information, so people who are caring for a family member can collaborate.

Text on Screen: Pillsy: Whoa there. Casper already took his pill this morning. (message notification)

Narration:

It also lets you know if you've already take a dose [beep sound] to help avoid double-dosing.

Text on Screen: Pillsy: Do you want to order a refill? (message notification)

Narration:

Pillsy also keeps track of how many pills you have remaining, so you can order refills exactly when you need more.

Text on Screen: Pillsy: Great! Your refill is on the way. (message notification)

Narration:

Use Pillsy to take control and achieve your health goals,

Text on Screen: Pillsy: Mom has been doing great with her medication this week. (message notification)

Narration:

or to help you take care of a loved one.

Text on Screen: (Chat conversation)

How are you doing Mom?

Great. Dad and I can't wait to see you next week.

Us too.

Narration:

Life gets busy and sometimes it reminds you. But pills don't.

Pillsy makes it easier to stay on top of your health.

So you can focus on enjoying life.
