STUDENT TRAVEL INSURANCE

Studying away from home?
Study smart.

Help protect your child from unexpected medical costs* with Student Travel Insurance.

If you have children who plan to study away from home, make sure they are covered for unexpected medical expenses. After all, their provincial health plan may only cover a portion of the medical bills incurred outside of Canada or their home province.

If left without supplemental protection, these out-of-pocket expenses can add up. But with Student Travel Insurance, your child can be covered from unexpected medical expenses in a foreign country for as little as $2.70 per day. If your child is studying in another province, the rate is half the price!

If your child is covered under your group health plan, remember to check the policy to see if it covers medical costs for out-of-province studies.

Take advantage of these Student Travel Insurance emergency* benefits:

- Hospital expenses
- Physician services
- Ambulance transportation
- Emergency dental treatment
- Trip Break, which allows students to return home for a visit without terminating their coverage
- Annual medical examination
- And more*
