Manulife Financial Travel Insurance – for your visitors to Canada

What is a Super visa?

For faster family reunification, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada has introduced Super visas for parents and grandparents of Canadian citizens or permanent residents in Canada.

- The new Super visa can be issued within eight weeks.¹
- The Parent and Grandparent Super visa is a multiple-entry visa.
- It is valid for up to 10 years.
- Family members can visit up to 24 months at a time.²

Why is travel insurance needed for a Super visa?

Applicants for the Super visa must provide evidence that they have Canadian medical insurance coverage for at least one year for a minimum of $100,000 coverage.³

Manulife Travel Insurance is a Canadian medical insurance plan that can financially protect against the costs of an unexpected medical emergency that can happen during a visit to Canada. When travelling away from home, even a minor mishap can become a big out-of-pocket expense.

Manulife Travel Insurance can help protect against these costs.

Visitors to Canada Travel Insurance

Manulife offers a plan that can be ideal for Super visa travellers: the Visitors to Canada (VTC) Single-Trip Emergency Medical Plan.

There are two coverage levels for VTC:

- $100,000 coverage for applicants age 85 and under
- $150,000 coverage for applicants age 69 and under

Benefits of VTC

Consider some of the many benefits visitors to Canada can take advantage of with VTC:

Emergency medical benefits:

- Emergency medical attention
- Emergency dental treatment
- Expenses related to death
- Emergency medical return home
- Additional expenses for meals and hotel
- Visit to bedside if travelling alone
- Childcare expenses
- Coverage for paramedical services
- Return of children
- Ambulance transportation
- Trip Break

Travel Accident Coverage

Included with purchase of Emergency Medical Insurance and covers up to $50,000 for an accidental bodily injury or death.

Conditions, limitations and exclusions apply. Please see the Visitors to Canada policy or contact your advisor for details.
