

MANULIFE FINANCIAL TRAVEL INSURANCE

Family coming from overseas?

Make sure they're covered for emergency medical costs.

When your visitors arrive, they won't be covered by a Canadian provincial health plan – so in the case of a medical emergency, they would have to pay out of pocket for any services required. Fortunately, many of these expenses can be avoided with Manulife Visitors to Canada Travel Insurance.

What does it cover?

Manulife Visitors to Canada Travel Insurance covers emergency medical costs and much more:

- Physician services
- Prescription drugs
- Hospital stays
- Diagnostic tests
- Ambulance transportation
- Emergency dental treatment
- Emergency medical return home
- Childcare expenses
- Return of children

As with all insurance policies, conditions, limitations and exclusions apply.

Did you know medical insurance coverage is a key requirement of the Super visa?

If you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada, the Super visa allows your parents or grandparents to visit multiple times for up to 10 years – and stay up to 24 months at a time.*

- Coverage of at least $100,000 is required from a Canadian insurance company.
- Coverage must be valid for one year.

How does the Manulife Visitors to Canada plan complement the Super visa?

- $100,000 coverage for applicants age 85 and under.
- $150,000 coverage for applicants age 69 and under.
